

To go with our new catalog, we have also updated the main InfoSoup landing page. We think you will be able to find your way around easily, but if you don't see what you are looking for, try the main menu bar. All of the links and resources that were on the old home page are located there.

What to Read Next?

Looking for our Recently added materials page? Under the What to Read? menu, select New @ Your Library. If you are looking for Bookletters booklists, select New & Noteworthy Books. Under this menu, you can also find links to NoveList and our reading blogs. Further down the page, you can also find quick links to all our reading resources under the What to Read Next? section.
